

Stand Up for Keech in 2012

17 January 2012

January blues? Laugh them away with a night of comedy and help raise much needed funds for Keech Hospice Care!

All profits from the evening will help Keech to help patients enjoy the highest quality of life, whilst providing vital support for their family and friends throughout their loved one's illness and in their bereavement.

The event couldn't come at a better time as it is one of the first to be held within the local charity's 21st birthday year. Fun will most definitely be had by all!

Thursday 9th February 2012 will see three extremely talented acts from the comedy circuit take to the stage at Luton's own G Casino. Experience 'professional comedy' from Lenny Peters, the 'intelligent humour' of Paul Ricketts and the 'mischievous mayhem' that is Ben Van der Velde.

Keech Hospice Care has been working very closely with both G Casino and Liam Jones at Ace Comedy, an established supplier of great comedic acts to G Casino. Liam is very supportive of Keech and the work that Keech does. He said: 'I am looking forward to working with such a great community charity - it's time for some fun!'

Event organiser, Lauren Tedder, commented: 'The knowledge and experience that Liam has in the field of comedy has made choosing acts for the event both enjoyable and reliable.'

'The involvement and guidance that G Casino has given us has been fantastic and it's so great when local businesses get on board to help us.'

Kiran Raval, G Casino's Sales and Events Manager, added: 'G Casino Luton is very proud to be working with Keech Hospice again. It's a great cause and we are honoured they chose our venue to host their Comedy Night. Please support the charity in any which way you can and let's make it a great night for Keech.'

At an affordable £15pp, guests not only get to see three top acts but the cost of a sharing platter is included in the price of the ticket and there's a pay bar open to purchase refreshments throughout the night.

There will also be a raffle with some superb prizes including VIP Casino tickets and a gift set from LUSH, the perfect gift to your loved one on Valentines Day.
